

A participating faculty member actively engages in the activities of the college in matters beyond direct teaching responsibilities. Such matters might include policy decisions, educational