There will be 15 courses reviewed, and not 31, as previously reported. The tentative due date for online proposal submissions is September 9, 2013, however due to a back log in IT requests in Undergraduate Studies and a new IT/Webmaster, this may be pushed later into Fall. Once the online proposal site is up and running, recertification notification letters will be sent to the respective department chairs and proposers of the courses due for recertification.
